ABOUT PROJECT

EQUIPPED YOUTH WORKERS WITH TECHNOLOGY, OVERCOME BARRIERS!

15% of the world's population, approximately 1 billion people, has some form of disability, and most of this is observed in developing countries. Approximately one-fifth of this figure represents 190 million people with severe disabilities (WHO, 2018). As can be expected, individuals with disabilities have problems such as lower education, poor health conditions, high unemployment and poverty than disabled people. There are economic, legal, physical and social barriers in front of the disabled and these barriers prevent participation in civil, economic and social life. One of the reasons behind this situation is that there are not enough social workers and youth workers who can provide services for young disabled people, and the insufficient capacity of the ones. As KIO, we conducted field research within the scope of the intellectual output we produced in our Virtual Reality for Inclusion - VR 4 Inclusion "strategic partnership project that we implemented with Bahçeşehir University and 3 other partners. Needs analysis of the institutions and individuals working in this field was conducted in 4 countries. As a result, it was seen that one of the most important deficiencies of youth workers and institutions working with people with disabilities is that they do not use the produced or existing technologies sufficiently and they do not know the ICT tools (www.vr4inclusion.org). It is seen that institutions and individuals who integrate and use the latest technologies in line with the needs of the target audience are more productive in their work and can make the lives of people with disabilities easier. Based on this need, the ultimate aim of our project is to increase the capacity (knowledge, skills, talent) of youth workers and institutions working with the disabled and to expand the scope of the activities. In doing so, technology and ICT will be used, and youth workers, trainers, experts and social workers will see how to use the current technologies and tools produced for the disabled.

ABOUT BURSA

Food & Drinks

Bursa is a city in northwestern Turkey and the administrative center of Bursa Province. The fourth-most populous city in Turkey and the second-most populous in the Marmara Region, Bursa is one of the industrial centers of the country. Most of Turkey's automotive production takes place in Bursa. Bursa (Ottoman Turkish) was the first major and second overall capital of the Ottoman State between 1335 and 1363. The city was referred to as Hüdavendigâr (meaning "God's gift" in Ottoman Turkish, a name of Persian origin) during the Ottoman period, while a more recent nickname is "Green Bursa" in reference to the parks and gardens located across its urban fabric, as well as to the vast and richly varied forests of the surrounding region. Mount Uludağ, the ancient Mysian Olympus, towers over it, and has a well-known ski resort. Bursa has rather orderly urban growth and borders a fertile plain. The mausoleums of the early Ottoman sultans are located in Bursa, and the city's main landmarks include numerous edifices built throughout the Ottoman period. Bursa also has thermal baths, old Ottoman mansions, palaces, and several museums.

The regional cuisine of Bursa is very rich and varied, it has remained under the shadow of "İskender Kebab" the most popular dish of Bursa. Throughout the history, most of the famous travelers have visited Bursa and wrote in their journals about the diverse dishes with high regard.

"Uzun Çarşı is very colorful and fancy with all the shopkeepers available to take care of your needs. The "Kebabçılar" marketplace located in Piriç Han is very elaborate. Fruit compote is unique to this realm. The white bread tastes as good as the white bread from the Tophane bakery in İstanbul. The "çakıl" bread is only found in this realm. The white pastry is like a rose. They have wonderful kebabs due to the fleshy animals they breed. Helva with musk is wonderful as well. The lifewater that you will drink from Pınarbaşı, where water flows from 17 different places, various fruit compotes, colorful sherbets, coffees, strained bozas (the fermented millet drink). There are 40 different varieties of pears. Various grapes, apricots, cherries, and chestnuts are matchless. There are 7 different types of mulberries."
